Aim

Starting school is a big step for every child and parent. All children are different and will settle in their own way and time. At Ambassador International Academy, we discuss how to do this in partnership with parents.

Ambassador International Academy has an open admission policy for students who choose to enroll.

Purpose

This policy sets out the School's aims for admission to students. It also describes the principles and processes which are used to select and admit new students to different age groups.

The School's admissions process supports the goals and aims of the school as laid out in its Mission and Vision.

To offer admission to all prospects who qualify the school's admission criteria for the respective grade. Before a child starts school there are opportunities to visit and discuss any individual needs with our staff.

Criteria for admission

- Children applying for admission to Early Learning Center must meet the age requirements set. Proof of age, such as a birth certificate or passport, may be required during the application process.
- Our admission policy requires Pre-KG applicants to turn 3 years of age by 31 August in the year of enrolment, as per KHDA regulations.
- Students entering Grades KG2 and below who have not completed any prior formal education and therefore do not have a transfer certificate will be admitted into the appropriate grade according to their date of birth and the school Age Chart.
- Students applying for Grades 1 and above and those who have previously completed formal education will be admitted to the appropriate grade according to their transfer certificate. Families transferring to AIA from other curriculums or schools which do not follow a September-July academic year should speak to the Admissions Team prior to application to determine the appropriate grade of entry for your child.

- We offer places where spaces are available, regardless of nationality, culture, gender or religion. All applications are dealt with on a first come first served basis.
- Where a grade is at capacity, a child may be placed on the waiting list. Siblings of current students are given priority if the grade applied for is at capacity.

Additional learning requirements:

Student of Determination – A Student of Determination is defined as a student with a long-term physical, mental, intellectual or sensory impairment; which, interaction with various barriers, hinders their full and effective participation in education on an equal basis with other peers of the same age. (Implementing Inclusive Education: A guide for schools, 2019).

Inclusion department at AIA caters to students who have identified learning needs, difficulties, or disabilities. At our school, we acknowledge that some learners may require extra assistance if they:

- Have a diagnosed disability ranging from mild to profound, categorized according to DSIB SEN Categories.
- Experience mild developmental delay that affects their ability to meet age-appropriate milestones
- Have sensory impairments or physical disabilities
- Face emotional, behavioural or physical disabilities
- Exhibit a combination of any of the aforementioned needs

The Inclusion Department has the duty of recognizing children with Special Education Needs as fully participating members of a community of learners and that the school follows the KHDA Social Model (Rights Based Model of Disability). We offer additional learning support where we can help the child to progress. All students are provided equitable access to learning, opportunities for achievement, and the pursuit of excellence in all aspects of their Educational Program. The school, being fully inclusive follows an open policy; students are not refused admission based on their experience of special education or disability. All efforts are made to accommodate different learning needs as per Federal Law 29 (UAE) and the guidance given by KHDA is strictly followed.

For students with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities, the following measures are useful in assessing the level of individuals to ensure that appropriate provisions are available for each student.

- Students are assessed in the group environment in order to take into account their age-appropriate milestones and social skills.
- A formal diagnosis is not required and assessments from external specialists such as, educational psychologists or medical professionals, are not compulsory. However, parents/carers are expected to disclose any special educational need which has been identified previously.
- Students requiring significant support to access the school will be referred to external centers having MOU with the school to seek specialist input and inform provision planning.

In the event that a new student is identified as having additional needs during the admission process, the Inclusion Team is promptly notified. The Head of Inclusion, in collaboration with the Principal/Vice Principal, conducts observations and assessments to determine the specific requirements of the child. Based on the findings, the team then identifies suitable provisions to address the student's needs.
