IB Mission statement

The International Baccalaureate aims to develop inquiring, knowledgeable and caring young people who help to create a better and more peaceful world through intercultural understanding and respect. To this end, the organization works with schools, governments and international organizations to develop challenging programmes of international education and rigorous assessment. These programmes encourage students across the world to become active, compassionate and lifelong learners who understand that other people, with their differences, can also be right.

The IB supports the following principles of an inclusive education:

Inclusion involves the process of shaping the culture, policies, and practices of schools and other entities to cater to the needs of every student.

- A comprehensive educational service embraces excellence and options while taking into account the perspectives of all stakeholders.
- It is imperative to ensure the well-being of all students' interests.
- The school community and relevant governing bodies should proactively eliminate obstacles that hinder learning and active participation.
- Every student should be granted access to a suitable education that enables them to realize their individual potential.

Legislation and Guiding Philosophy

This policy specifically focuses on provision of support for Students of Determination (SOD). For provision for English Language Learners, please see the Language Policy. The rationale for this policy document is guided by the following key concepts/documents:

- UNESCO's definition of Special Needs Education: "Education designed to facilitate learning by individuals who, for a wide variety of reasons, require additional support and adaptive pedagogical methods in order to participate and meet learning objectives in an Education programme." (ISCED 2011, p.83, UNESCO)

- IB definition of inclusion: “Inclusion is an ongoing process that aims to increase access and engagement in learning for all students by identifying and removing barriers.” (Learning Diversity and Inclusion in IB programmes, 2016)
- Dubai Inclusive Education Policy Framework (2017)
- Implementing Inclusive Education – A Guide for Schools (2019)
- In line with The CIS Code of Ethics our schools’ Mission statement and values promote global citizenship, through the holistic approach on international curriculum contributing to active, and compassionate lifelong learning across the world.

Ambassador International Academy therefore aims to be an inclusive school, welcoming all Students of Determination. It is our goal to take action to identify and reduce barriers to learning so that all students can experience success in keeping with their inherent abilities or strengths.

Identification and Assessment of Need

Identification

During the admission and enrolment procedure, potential learning and behavioural needs of students might come to light. It is the duty of the admissions officers to ensure that this information is communicated to the Inclusion Team.

The KHDA guide on Implementing Inclusive Education (2019), identifies three specific indicators of concern. These are:

- When students make significantly slower progress than their peers starting from the same baseline.
- When a student fails to maintain or improve on previous progress rates.
- When a student's attainment gap widens, in comparison to same-aged peers.

Ambassador International academy employs both formal and informal means of identifying special educational needs. Students are identified as requiring additional learning support through one or several of the following means:

- Teacher observations and assessment
- Formative and Summative Assessments
- Formal educational diagnostic assessments (CAT scores or GL Progress tests)
- Screening tools/Classroom Observations
- Parental concerns, via appropriate channels. This may include meetings or emails shared with the Principal, Vice Principal, MYP Coordinator, PYP Coordinator, Subject Heads or Leaders of School sections, Student Counsellor, Inclusion Department, subject or specialist teachers.
- New students with supporting documentation of a diagnosed learning difficulty or provision of additional support from a previous school.
- Psychological or medical diagnosis

Referral Process

Teachers follow the referral steps outlined below when indicators of concern are present in terms of physical, intellectual, social and emotional development.

- Teachers will provide differentiated activities, make their observation, and record anecdotal notes for two to three weeks depending on the student's requirement.
- Consultation with the Inclusion team and student's other teachers to collaborate on possible strategies to address the identified need.
- Should no progress be noted, the class/subject teacher contacts parents to discuss making a referral for additional support and confirm parental consent.
- Referring teacher completes the SOD referral form and submits it to the Head of Inclusion.
- Inclusion team may suggest to parents/guardians that an assessment should be conducted by an outside agency, such as by an Educational Psychologist, Speech and Language Therapist or Occupational Therapist.

- Observation by the Inclusion Team will be done to confirm the challenges reported and type of need will be identified according to the 2019-2020 Revised Categorization Framework for Students of Determination.
- Communication is maintained between the Head of Inclusion, Inclusion Teacher, Class/Subject Teacher and the external agencies which may be involved in supporting the student.
- Class/Subject Teacher and Inclusion Teacher work in collaboration to create a learning plan and intervention is implemented to monitor progress.
- Parents have the right to decline support, a choice that will be documented accordingly. In the event that parents opt against support for their child, they are required to provide a plan outlining their intended assistance, such as external therapy, home program, etc.

Level of Intervention and Provision of Support

The diversity of need experienced by the students of determination requires a graduated approach to intervention.

Level 1/Wave 1: Universal – Students are monitored in class.

- The student may have an Educational Psychological Report; however, their need does not require either push in or pull-out learning support.
- High quality teaching in the classroom, where teachers accommodate individual differences in ability, learning style and behaviour.
- Effectively differentiated classroom practice.
- On-going and timely assessments which inform if any further provision is needed.
- Parents are kept informed of their child's progress and are invited to contribute to the review.
- The Inclusion & Well-being Department will be available to offer advice on home plans, strategies and interventions to both the teachers and parents.
- In the event that a student's need for level 1 support is determined to be no longer necessary, the Head of Inclusion will issue an exit letter to communicate this development to the parent.

Level 2/Wave2: Targeted Support

- Targeted support plans (IAP/IBP) for each student provides strategies to the teachers to work with the student.
- In-class support and/or curriculum modification/differentiation/accommodations may be provided to enable a student to engage with, and participate in, appropriately challenging learning experiences.
- Withdrawals for sessions will only be considered if the support deemed necessary cannot be delivered within the classroom environment or if the student has intervention program from an outside agency.
- Support teachers and or in-school specialists are likely to support this process by observing lessons and making recommendations.
- Awareness is promoted through professional coaching and monitoring.
- Interventions and progress are monitored by the Inclusion Department with other school staff.

Level 3/Wave 3: Specialist Support

- Individualised programmes to accelerate progress or enable students to achieve their potential.
- These students may have specific and/or exceptional needs that require the support from outside professionals for specialist interventions.
- IEP (Individualised Education Plan) is prepared which will provide detailed support for differentiation, modification and accommodation.
- If required, individualised and specialised provision may include the employment of an Individual Support Assistant (ILSA). The ILSA must be approved by the Inclusion Team but it is the financial responsibility of the family.

 Transitions occur between the different tiers, guided by the joint effort of educators and parents. This process incorporates substantiating evidence in the form of current data streams and observations.*

Assessing and reviewing student progress

Progress of SOD will be determined by the same methodology and testing as all students against age-related and subject/curriculum area expectations. The responsibility for assessing this progress is the class/subject teacher, supported where necessary by the Inclusion team and Learning Support Teachers with input directly from the student and parent/carer, where appropriate.

Additionally, and importantly, progress will also be measured by the students' achievement against their personal targets set in their Individual Support Plan or IEP/IAP/IBP/ILS/ILP. This is measured through a progress tracker embedded in their Individual Support Plan. Based on this premise, a student is making expected progress if s/he is achieving their targets within the appropriate timescale. S/he is making better than expected progress if s/he is exceeding personal targets and/or achieving stretch targets, both in terms of competency and within (or faster) timescales.

Monitoring and Evaluating the need for additional support

Students will no longer receive additional learning support if their progress is considered adequate. Adequate progress can be defined as progress which:

- Closes the attainment gap between the student and their peers.
- Prevents the attainment gap growing wider.
- Is similar to that of peers.
- Matches or betters the child's previous rate of progress.

If a student on level 2 support continues to make little or no progress after a differentiated programme, the Leader of Provision, after consultation with the Learning Support team, will recommend that parents seek external assessment for further diagnosis of need. Specialist assessment and recommendations will then be incorporated into an IEP.

Provisions

Within both the standard school service and supplementary offerings, an array of support mechanisms can be utilized to aid individual students. The selection of appropriate support for individual students will be a joint decision involving the Head of Inclusion, Homeroom Teachers, Inclusion Teachers, and parents. This selection will be rooted in the specific needs of the student, the existing staff and resources at hand.

At AIA, the standard school service encompasses:

- Brief yet intensive interventions and strategies implemented within the classroom environment.
- Comprehensive support delivered through focused withdrawal sessions in collaboration with the Inclusion Team.
- In-class assistance provided by the class teacher, Inclusion Teacher, or Learning Support Assistants (LSAs).
- Inclusion Teacher's guidance through cooperative planning and professional development assistance.
- Additional student assistance options, such as peer tutoring, buddy systems, or circle of friends. Implementing these approaches requires thorough planning, potential training, and a designated individual to oversee and supervise.
- External assistance from appropriate external agencies, such as Student Support services, speech and language therapy, occupational therapy, behaviour support services, and counselling services, among others.
- If required, Individual Student Support Assistant (ILSA)
- Modified Curriculum and Assessments - tailored to concepts that the student has been taught and methods they will be able to attempt.
- Exemption from learning additional languages – (Subject to approval from KHDA for Arabic language)
- Alternative pathways for students requiring extensive support in higher grades – ASDAN.

Special Access Accommodation Provisions:

As per IB Guidelines access accommodations are provided to the students of determination. To avail this accommodation, there is a need for supporting documents. i.e., Psychological/ Psycho-educational/ Medical report - Standard scores requested in psychological reports and/or areas assessed may be in line with the learning support requirements. Examples of educational evidence are - Teacher(s) observations, sample of work, evidence of access in previous school/ year groups/ grades.

The purpose of access arrangements is to remove or reduce barriers that students may face in teaching, learning and assessment. When the school recognizes that a student has access requirements. Arrangements must be accurately planned to remove or reduce barriers; they must neither be more nor less than what the student requires.

The access arrangements for a student must be used for learning and teaching; this means that they must be used during classroom instruction, classwork and related activities and tests. Access arrangements must also be continuously monitored to ensure that they remain the optimal support for that student (IB - Access and Inclusion Policy, 2018).

Transition to Other Educational Establishments

Ambassador International Academy advocates for children with diverse abilities and assists in their seamless transition to new educational institutions. We facilitate this transition by preparing comprehensive exit reports for students who are relocating to other schools, both within the local community and abroad. These reports detail the specific requirements and accommodations that the student necessitates, along with an overview of the tailored programs that were implemented to aid the student's progress.

Appendices

Appendix A: Admissions Policy for Student of Determination

A student will be regarded as a Student of Determination, if they have a learning difficulty or disability that calls for special educational provisions to be made for them. A student has a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- A disability that prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

(Implementing Inclusive Education: A guide for schools, 2019)

Special educational provision is an educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

We offer additional learning support where we can help the child to progress. All students are provided equitable access to learning, opportunities for achievement, and the pursuit of excellence in all aspects of their Educational Program.

The school being fully inclusive follows an open policy; students are not refused admission based on their experience of special education or disability. All efforts are made to accommodate different learning needs as per federal law and the guidance and procedures given by KHDA are strictly followed. For students with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities, the following measures are useful in assessing the level of individuals to ensure that appropriate provisions are available for each student.

- Parents/Carers are expected to disclose any SEND which has been identified previously.
- The application should be accompanied by previous IEPs (If any)/Medical/Psychological assessments (If any).

- Foundation stage students are assessed in the group environment in order to take into account their school readiness and social skills. Students should be toilet trained before joining the school.
- Failure to disclose any previously identified needs, including the deliberate withholding of information, may result in the cancellation of admissions.
- Students requiring significant support to access the school will be referred to external centers having MOU with the school. Once assessed and confirmed by the center the child can be considered for admission.
- Parents are usually asked to view the services and arrangements the school offers before a mutual decision regarding a student's admission is taken and finalized.
- Parents are required to support and comply with the specific recommendations made by the school.
- Any new applicant identified as a SOD will be referred to the Inclusion Team, who will in consultation with the Principal/Vice Principal study the reports, observe and assess the child to provide appropriate provisions.

Appendix B: Additional Time during internal and external examinations

- Additional time may be authorized for written examinations and for certain activities connected to internal assessment according to the candidate have assessed needs. The amount of additional time given to a candidate is directly linked to the degree of the access requirement. This would range from 10% additional time (6 minutes for each hour of the examination) for candidates with mild challenges to 25% additional time (15 minutes for each hour of the examination) or the standard applicable to most candidates to 50% additional time (30 minutes for each hour of the examination) for candidates with more severe challenges. In exceptional cases, or for candidates with visual impairment working with Braille who have a requirement for substantial amount of additional time, 100% or more additional time may be given for assessments upon authorization from the IB. For periods of less than one hour the additional time should be given on a pro rata basis.
- For a large number of candidates, eligibility for additional time and the amount of time authorized will be dependent on the standard scores on psychological reports. For candidates with medical and/or psychological conditions or physical and/or sensory challenges, a medical report stating the condition and preferably the need for the requested access would determine eligibility. Further, educational evidence from the school stating that amount of extra time required is the candidate's usual way of accessing classroom tasks and assessments and providing justification for the same would also be required for consideration of requests for additional time.

- The school is responsible of making the arrangements (scribe, reader, prompter, practical assistant or communicator) for the student. Coordinators must inform the student and parents as to the special provisions which are going to be in place.
- For all candidates who require considerations, a detailed report (medical and/or psychological) is required which supports the documentation of the student. The IBCA (International Baccalaureate Curriculum and Assessment) may request additional information if needed. For special considerations, medical and/or psychologist report must be done no earlier than the previous academic year before the start of the student's study of the Diploma or Certificate Programme.
- Spell checkers can be used for extended essay and internal assessments. However, for written examinations a computer can only be used for its sole purpose of an alternative to handwriting. If a student has severe dyslexia, then the IBCA will make provisions (if approved) to use a spell checker. The use of technology cannot provide the student with an advantage.
- Coordinators need to get an approval for internal and external exams from the IBCA of text to speech (voice) technology.
- A scribe and a reader can be used during internal and/or external examinations.
 - a) A scribe needs to make sure to write the responses verbatim
 - b) If drawing any diagrams – the scribe must follow exactly what the student instructs.
 - c) The scribe cannot offer any assistance to answering questions.
 - d) If the student requests this, the scribe and/or the reader can read back what was written.
 - e) A reader can read the question more than once (upon the students' request). The reader cannot do the following: Reword a question, explain a question, emphasize any phrases or words, give advice.

Appendix C (Guidelines for ILSA)

1. Additional time - As per IB Document Candidates with Special Assessment, the students have additional time (10%, 25%, 50% or 100% - depending on their needs).
2. Rest Periods - As per the IBO Document Candidates with Special Assessment, students with identified special needs or additional needs can have 10 minutes of rest period in an hour. During the rest period, the student cannot read and/or answer the exam paper. If a student needs to go out of the room, he/she must be accompanied to ensure the security of exam is maintained. Rest periods do not count as additional time.
3. Computers - Laptops are exclusively permitted for use as sophisticated typewriters. They will not have internet access, a thesaurus, or spell checker, unless authorized by the IB. Their purpose is solely for typing, akin to a traditional typewriter.
4. Scribe - The transcriber must accurately record the student's responses, following their instructions precisely for drawings, mappings, and graphs. No answers should be provided. Answers can be read back upon student request. Changes or deletions to answers are allowed based on student instructions. Prompting is used selectively for specific students as needed.
5. Reader - The reader is required to follow directions and material precisely. Upon the student's request, the reader may repeat questions, passages, directions, etc. However, the reader is not permitted to alter the wording of the questions.
6. Prompter - To ensure students' attention and focus during exams, utilize a gentle tap on their arm and/or desk for prompting. Avoid using verbal prompts.
